

EAA Chapter 339 Meeting

The topic will center around the application of human factors to aviation safety. The things we talk about will be just as applicable to driving an automobile, skiing, mowing your lawn, removing the engine from your home-built aircraft, or anything else that has a potential for an accident. Don't miss the exclusive event. Click the link below and register TODAY.

Directions: Presentation will be conducted in the normal monthly meeting location off Volvo Parkway in Chesapeake, VA

A message from the National FAASTeam Manager
